Hailing from Richmond, Virginia JustRaymona is the quintessential phenomenal woman that after years of hard work and research has realized a dream come true! En.v new york, the first clothing line of its kind to merge Seventh Avenue fit, selection and style for the "Full Figured Woman".

After years of pattern/samplemaking for major designers on the Avenue and custom styling for the likes of Mary J. Blige, Busta Rhymes, Lady Gaga to name a few JustRaymona developed and launched en.v new york which is a Plus Size Clothing Line catering to that curvier woman (sizes 14-32). She is merging the knowledge of custom clothing with some 20 years in the industry, pattern and sample making to achieve a better fit, style and selection for full figured women.

Adding yet another entity to her repertoire, JustRaymona finds herself in the spotlight again! This time as an Entertainment artist on a new Reality Fashion show 24 Hour Catwalk presented on the Lifetime Network on January 10th 2012 at 10pm EST. Though it is a new dynamic to add to the list for Just, she's definitely bringing a Fresh take on Reality Television!

February, 2013 set another milestone for Just. She became the first independent Plus Size designer (sizes 14-32) to show during NYFW! Today after hosting many events, serving as Fashion Critic for MTV, VH1, BET, working with our youth in various capacities, judging shows etc., Just is busy working on the relaunch of the JustRaymona for en.v new York and the new JR Signature Collection. The JR Signature Collection is the designer to Bridal collection. This means the new modern Full Figured Woman can have the confidence to know she can get all she needs in one place without hassle or constraints. JustRaymona is so happy to announce the shopping website which is long overdue (www.en.v newyork.com) is coming early 2017.

Yes, her target launch is February '17 during NYFW. At last, everyone will have Plus Size clothing at their fingertips!

My aesthetics to designing is setting trends as opposed to following trends. Each woman has her own unique individual expression of who she is...

Each woman's body is different.

Each woman's personality is different.

Each woman's expressions are different.

Here at en.v new york, we help you to find your own "STYLE" and set the bar for fashion with clothing that fits well and looks great!
